

Claims

I Claim:

1. A method of selecting which hardcopy mail is to be received by an intended mail recipient 5 comprising;

a digital means for sending images of said intended recipient's mail to said intended recipient,
and

a means for said recipient to view said images, wherein said digital means for sending images and said means to view said images are interconnected by a 10 network.